

The Center for Place, Culture & Politics Presents:

Demystifying Pakistan: Understanding the Current Crisis

A panel discussion on the military in Pakistani politics, society and economy; emergency, martial law, and the rule of law in India and Pakistan; the rise and subsequent fall of electronic media under President
Musharraf; and the politics of democratic protest in Pakistan.

Panelists:

Dr. Ayesha Siddiq, Visiting Professor, South Asian Studies, University of Pennsylvania and author of Military, Inc. : Inside Pakistan's Military Economy (Pluto Press, 2007)

Anil Kalhan, Visiting Assistant Professor, Fordham Law School

Kiran Khalid, documentary film maker and producer, Good Morning America and director, "We Are Not Free," a documentary short to be screened at the panel

Dr. Sahar Shafqat, Associate Professor, St.
Mary's College of Maryland and Member of the anti-Musharraf/pro-democracy movement in Pakistan

Moderated by Saadia Toor, Assistant Professor of Sociology, College of Staten Island

Friday, March 28, 2007, 6 pm
Baisley Powell Elebash
Recital Hall
The Graduate Center
City University of New York,
365 Fifth Avenue,
New York, NY